Our stability tests ensure that our final formulations work as they are expected to, even after being exposed to bright light, heat or cold on their journey from us to you.

MICROBIAL TESTING

Through our microbial testing, we ensure that each batch of our products is free from bacterial growth and sneaky microbes.

DERMATOLOGICAL TESTING

We ensure each product is tested clinically on the sensitive human skin to ensure that it is not allergic. We get these tests done in European Union strict standard compliant labs based in Europe to ensure that our products live up to the standards we want them
